

Burying the Alleluia

During the church season of Lent, our church does not sing or say the word 'Alleluia'. Alleluia is an Easter word of joy and resurrection. We put away or bury the Alleluia throughout Lent, and then reclaim it on Easter Sunday. After 40 days without it, we are bursting with Easter joy!

Write or print the word 'Alleluia' on purple card, then roll up and tie with a purple ribbon. Hide it away somewhere in your house and then bring it out on Easter Sunday and display it somewhere prominent in your home.

Here are some ideas you might like to print or copy...

